THE CONVENTION.

Democracy's Great Quadrennial Gathering.

FIRST DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

Gorgeous Scenes in Convention Hall. Chairman White's Address—Unbounded Enthusiasm.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

ST. LOUIS, June 5.—The Democratic National Convention began to gather in the early hours of the morning. Although Chairman Barnum did not announce the opening until after noon, the trickling stream of humanity, which began to run into the big Exposition building as early as 8 o'clock, soon grew to a torrent, which surged in and filled the great "nave" of the hall to overflowing, and long before noon 10,000 human faces gazed upon the high desk reserved for the presiding officers of the Convention, as yet empty, but with its gleaming white silver gavel, the gift of the Colorado delegation, full of curious interest for the expectant multitude. The noble proportions of the hall strike at once with admiration. It is oblong in shape, relieved on either side by balconies reaching back 200 feet, above which, stretching entirely around the auditorium, is a broad, overhanging gallery. The ample stage reaches from the rear of the Chairman's platform 50 feet to the east wall of the hall and accommodates 440 of the gathered leaders and fathers of National Democracy.

The decorations are simple but effective. The stage is hung with red, white and blue bunting, relieved with festoons and borders of evergreen. Upon a pedestal on the right of the entrance of the stage stands a bust of the President, and suspended upon the face of the gallery is a large portrait of the President in oil. On either side are similar portraits of Hancock, Tilden, Hendricks and ex-Governor Marmaduke, of Missouri. A very striking effect is produced in the gallery above the stage by an enormous shaded drawing of the Capitol at Washington upon a background of sky-blue canvas.

The delegates by States are arranged entirely across the nave of the hall and stretch ninety feet in front of the platform. They are arranged with aisles and in alphabetical order, beginning with Alabama on the right and ending with Wisconsin at the left.

As the Convention gathered, a full brass band of sixty pieces, stationed on the west gallery, filled the hall with martial strains and popular operatic airs. The delegates straggled in last of all, and there was some confusion in seating them in accordance with the plan arranged, but nobody appeared to be in a hurry, and everybody was good natured.

As noon approached the vast audience watched each new comer, each familiar face, and cheered whenever prominent figures were recognized.

Those in the hall who could read the rather dim inscriptions beneath the portraits in the face of the east gallery railing, repeated the epigrams to their near neighbors, who passed them on, and soon the curiosity of the entire audience was satisfied.

Beneath Cleveland's portrait is a familiar quotation from the President's message: "It is condition not theory that confronts us." Under Tilden's portrait is the motto: "Let there be peace and fraternity throughout the land." Beneath Hancock's portrait is written the following quotation from his letter of acceptance: "The great principles of liberty are the inheritance of the people." It is at once noticed by delegates as they note these familiar Democratic faces, and equally familiar and historical Democratic sentiments, that there is a conspicuous absence of one man's face in this Democratic portrait gallery. The portrait of every Democratic National candidate since, and including 1876, except that of ex-Governor English, of Indiana, who was on the ticket in 1880, is before the eyes of the Convention, and the place which should be filled by English's portrait is occupied by that of ex-Governor Marmaduke.

The most noticeable incident as the hour of the opening of the Convention approached was the flutter of handkerchiefs and a waving of fans by the ladies who filled a double row of loggia arranged along the front row of the two galleries, which had been given up almost exclusively to the women, whose bright attire and pretty faces lent additional attraction to the Convention ensemble.

Visiting clubs with emblazoned banners came in late, but as each well-known organization was recognized they were greeted with cheers. The Tammany Hall braves were among the first to appear, followed closely by the New York County Democracy and local St. Louis organization. The Randall Club, with its gorgeous black and gold banner, and led by "Squire" William McMullen, the hero of seven National Conventions, marched in proudly and was generously applauded. The first of the great National Democratic figures to put in an appearance among the delegates was the tall form of the senior Senator from Indiana, Dan. W. Voorhees, and he was at once recognized and cheered to the echo. The Cleveland Democracy of Buffalo, with a full brass band playing "Dixie," marched into the gallery, and created something of a sensation; at this point the Convention burst into applause and cheers, which continued until the club made a circuit in the gallery and was seated. The club's crimson banner, with its conspicuous gold letters, inscribing the President's name, was at once one of the most conspicuous and popular ornaments of the hall. Every member of the club wears a high hat and a Cleveland badge.

Hon. Stephen M. White, of California, stepped quietly into his seat. Very few persons recognized him. While he was shaking hands with the California delegates, the Cleveland Club parade had come to an end, and the standard-bearer planted the Cleveland banner directly in front of the great picture of the Capitol in the east gallery, a significant incident which redoubled the cheers from the throng in the nave of the hall below.

Chairman Barnum, of the National Committee appeared at this moment upon the platform and was instantly recognized and amid the general applause voices crying "Barnum" were heard all over the hall. The Hendricks Club, of Indianapolis, increased the volume of cheering as it marched up to the east gallery and placed its banner by the side of the Cleveland Democrats' banner. Chairman Barnum looked up to see what was going on above, and when he caught sight of the two splendid banners he nodded approval.

Congressman Scott, his face wreathed [illegible] stepped in front of the Secretary's stand and held a brief consultation with some friends.

Closely following upon Scott's heels entered Henry Watterson, of the Courier-Journal, with his coat-tail pockets bulged out conspicuously, suggesting the manuscript copy of the platform, which it is said he is preparing. He stopped to say a word in Scott's ear, and passed quietly to a seat.

At noon all the delegates had arrived at Convention Hall except those from New York and Missouri. The absence of the New York delegation made a large gap in the center of the space reserved, and the Convention waited with mingled feelings of curiosity and impatience for the appearance of the Empire State's representatives. It was fifteen minutes before they came into the Convention, headed by ex-Mayor Grace, of New York city. Conspicuous as it marched to its place, with the eyes of the Convention fixed upon it, was the distinguished figure of Daniel Dougherty, who is to place Cleveland in nomination, and he was cheered.

At this moment a California delegate mounted a chair, and, unfurling a red handkerchief, placed it upon the banner pole of the delegation. This was the signal for the appearance of hundreds of the "Old Roman's" standard. Almost instantly the banner poles of Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Nebraska, West Virginia, Florida, Utah, New Mexico, Ohio, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Delaware, Oregon and Nevada were decorated with red handkerchiefs, and from the gallery, balconies and nave of the hall proper red banners waved all over the auditorium. A cheer bursts from a thousand throats in the galleries, as each was caught up by the Convention's full-throated voice.

While this flare-up of enthusiasm was in progress, some one hoisted a high gray hat upon the pole of the Indiana delegates and the friends of Governor Gray joined in the shouting. Chairman Barnum, who had advanced to the high desk on the platform, waited for the cheers to subside and then the CONVENTION WAS CALLED TO ORDER.

"The Convention will please come to order," said Chairman Barnum. "Bishop G. C. Granberry, of St. Louis, will open the proceedings of this Convention with prayer."

The Bishop came forward and addressed the throne of grace as follows: "Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, who art lifted above all this turmoil and yet dost stoop to us in answer to our prayers, we adore Thee; we praise Thee; we give Thee thanks for Thy great goodness to the sons of men. Thou art God and we are the people of Thy province and the work of Thy hand. We thank Thee for this great country which Thou hast given us; for the increase of our population and our wealth and our power; for the diffusion of knowledge; for Thy form which giveth light for the Church and for all Christian institutions. Forgive our ingratitudes, our forgetfulness of thee; our disobedience according to the multitude of Thy favors. Christ, O! Lord, save us from pestilence, famine and war; from sectional strife and anarchy and disorder; from the reign of vice and crime and impiety; may the foundations of our prosperity be laid in faith and reverence and righteousness and love, and may the favor of our God be our defence and our glory. We beseech Thee, Almighty God, that Thou wilt bless the President of the United States, and all that are in authority, and do Thou provide for us able men who fear God, men of truth and righteousness; and may our people be led on by Thy wisdom and Thy power and goodness from height to height of material and intellectual and moral development. May these blessings be transmitted from generation to generation, and extend to all nations, that all the earth may see the glory of our God. These prayers we offer in the name of Thy Son, Jesus Christ. Amen."

At the conclusion of the prayer Barnum arose and said: "Gentlemen of the Convention, by an unanimous vote of the National Committee, it has been decided to present to this Convention as the list of temporary officers the following, which the Secretary will read." Secretary Prince then read the list as follows: Stephen M. White, of California, Chairman (applause); temporary Secretary, Fred O. Prince, of Massachusetts; Assistant Secretaries, Alfred Orendorff, of Illinois; W. L. Scott, of Virginia; T. O. Barrett, of St. Louis; Leopold Strauss, of Alabama; O. M. Hall, of Minnesota; John Triplett, of Georgia; L. E. Bowley, of Michigan; Oliver Newell, of Colorado; T. J. Lingle, of Missouri; T. L Merrill, of Nebraska; reading secretary, Honorable Thomas Pettit, of the House of Representatives. Assistant reading clerks, M. L. Scott, Virginia; T. E. Barrett, New Jersey; T. O. Walker, Iowa; E. H. Henry, Mississippi; John W. Kern, Indiana; J. P. Carr, Missouri; Ed. Sawyer, Ohio; A. P. Bently, Ohio. Official stenographer, Edward B. Dickinson, New York; sergeant-at-arms, Richard J. Bright; chief door-keeper, Daniel Abbock, St. Louis.

The Chair—Gentlemen of the Convention, as many of you as affirm the action of the National Committee say aye.

The Convention unanimously adopted the list as read, after which the Chairman said: "I will appoint the Hon. Arthur B. Gorman, of Maryland, the Hon. Calvin P. Brice, of Ohio, and the Hon. Frank W. Lawson, of South Carolina, as a committee to wait upon Mr. White and conduct him to the chair." [Applause.]

The committee escorted Mr. White to the chair amid great enthusiasm and Barnum introduced him to the Convention in the following words: "Gentlemen of the Convention, I have the pleasure and honor to present to the Convention Hon. Stephen M. White, of California."

CHAIRMAN WHITE'S SPEECH.

GENTLEMEN OF THE CONVENTION:—am profoundly grateful for the honor conferred on me. I am nevertheless conscious that I have been chosen for this position because of your appreciation of that important section of our common country from whence I come. I can assure you that those whom I in part represent, will regard with satisfaction the recognition which they have just received: not because of any uncommon ability or influence of mine, but for the reason that this is the only instance in the history of our National Conventions in which the Pacific Slope has been accorded such an honor. California was acquired under Democratic rule; it became a commonwealth under Democratic auspices; it is therefore fitting that the bestowal of this favor should emanate from an organization whose patriotism and courage gave her to the American Union, forward with parental fondness the children of and that that party should be the first to press those who knocked and did not knock in vain for admission to the privileges of Statehood.

I congratulate you not merely as Democrats, but as American citizens on the encouraging circumstances which attend the inauguration of our proceedings. For the first time for a period covering more than a quarter of a century the Democratic National Convention is held while the affairs of the Government are conducted by a Democratic administration. Up to the late Presidential election the Republican party declared that Democratic success meant National ruin, and whatever might be said of the crimes and transactions of those then in authority, yet to no other keeping could the welfare of the United States be safely confided. That doctrine was repudiated at the polls, and the experience of almost four years has demonstrated that these assertions and charges were unwarranted, and that the people were right in demanding and compelling a radical change. The platform of principles adopted at our last National Convention prescribed with accuracy the rules of conduct which should control governmental action. Grover Cleveland was selected by that Convention as the man whose firmness, ability, integrity and [illegible] more necessary in a public than in a private station.

For years it had been generally conceded that it was necessary to reform the tariff. The existing law on the subject had been called into being during the excitement and because of the exigencies of the war. The Republican party while not denying the necessity for reform has ever failed to suggest any remedy, and has universally thwarted the efforts of the Democracy to afford the needed relief. The present administration has realized the promises made by the Democratic Convention of 1884. It has sought to reduce taxation and lighten the burdens of the people and to reduce the revenue, so as to prevent an undue accumulation in the Treasury, and has at the same time taken the requisite steps to foster and protect domestic industries. It has discouraged the centralization of wealth, and has enabled, as far as circumstances would permit, those in the less favored walks of life to enjoy the benefit of their exertions. In other words, the Democratic Administration has used its utmost endeavors to carry out the platform on which our great reform victory was achieved. If the tariff has not been modified it is because of Republican obstruction.

The existence of an enormous surplus in the Treasury threatens the industries of the country. It is a constant source of injury to the consumers and men of moderate means who find it difficult to obtain monetary assistance because of the withdrawal of a large portion of the circulating medium. This unfortunate situation is directly attributable to the policy of the Republican party, whose aim has ever been to encourage and enrich monopolies and to ignore the interests of the masses.

During Republican dominancy many million acres of the public domain passed into the hands of corporate and foreign syndicates, formed for the creation of individual fortunes. The obligations imposed as conditions precedent to investiture of title, were persistently revoked by the beneficiaries, and these violations passed unheeded until the Democratic Administration, in conformity with the doctrines of the party, declared a forfeiture, thus tendering to those seeking homes in good faith more than forty million acres, which had been withheld by the Republican party for the benefit of a selfish few.

In conformity with the views of the President a statute has been enacted, preventing the acquisition of lands by those not citizens of the United States, and restricting the power of corporations to obtain title to realty in its territories. If the preceding Republican Administrations had adopted the present Democratic policy, there would have been preserved as homes for settlers locating in good faith, immense tracts of fertile soil now in the hands of corporations and foreign speculators.

For years universal attention has been directed to the dangers of Chinese immigration. The advent of hordes of pagan slaves, disciplined to starvation and inured to unremunerative toil, has rightly been considered destructive to the interests of labor and a menace to the Republic. The Democratic party, unlike its political adversary, had always been with the people on this issue. The administration has entered into a treaty with the Chinese Empire which must result in excluding the Mongolians from our shores, and which for the first time makes it possible to prevent the perpetration of the frauds on our immigration laws now practiced by that race, and to preserve us from the evils of servile competition. Thus, after repeated Republican failures, we reach a successful settlement of this question, which has justly agitated a vast number of our citizens, and with which the Republican leaders have proved themselves incompetent to deal.

I cannot permit myself to dwell at any length on the many subjects which this occasion suggests. I cannot permit myself to point out the benefits which have occurred to all from the wisdom and prudence of our chief executive. The proprieties of the hour bid me to hasten to the performance of the duties incident to this place. Suffice it to say that the reelection of President Cleveland is demanded by the patriotic sentiment of the land.

The Republican party is struggling for life. It cannot long survive. Its extended incumbency was due to the fears and doubts succeeding a great civil conflict. These forebodings have been removed by time and thought; and honest opinion, in spite of illegal force openly used and not withstanding the criminal efforts of defeating the public will, as expressed at the ballot box, has driven the unworthy servants from office and has summoned to power an administration to which no stain or suspicion has ever been attached. This was done when the world doubted whether a free Government could be maintained here, and whether our citizens were strong enough to control the agents of their own selection, who defied the power of those from their authority proceeded. It was accomplished despite the perpetuation of a crime against the electoral franchise, which deprived Democracy of the fruits of a victory, and the whole people of the services of that great statesman and true American, Samuel J. Tilden. Here, where he was nominated let it be said, "Peace to his ashes." He discharged his great duties greatly. His name should be transmitted as an example of one who, rather than disturb public tranquility, sacrificed on the altar of his country the noblest aspirations of an American citizen.

Unable to reinstate themselves on any meritorious issue the corrupt politicians, whose transgressions have excluded them from office, seek restoration to authority by endeavoring to reanimate the buried issues of the past generation. But these unseemly efforts must fail. Those who participated in the struggle are not anxious to renew it. The agitators of to-day are in most instances non-combatants. A new generation has come upon the scene. What the younger voters know is only through tradition and history. They are ardent, ambitious and enlightened. They look with aversion on every attempt to lead them into impertinent discussion. They are anxious for present success and future honor and happiness. They are too busy with the practical affairs of life to engage in useless controversy. They love their country better than the delusion of an empty name. They know that the glory and advancement of the Republic is dependent on general co-operation. While they glory in their heroic deeds, they yet believe that unkind words and exaggerated references to the past are not promotive of present harmony and future prosperity, and that an administration which treats all alike and recognizes that there is no distinction before the law of race or section, is best calculated to further the general interests and to perpetuate the blessings of liberty.

The honest, intelligent elector whose judgment is untainted by prejudice is prepared to again entrust this government to the Democratic party. That that party has accomplished so much, notwithstanding the combined opposition of its foes, is ample evidence that during the next four years its policy will be finally and completely adopted. The coming contest will result in the triumph of the Democracy. The nominees of this convention will be the chosen of the people, and if we do our duty the Republican party will henceforth be unable to retard the progress of our country.

After the applause following Chairman White's speech, Governor Green, of New Jersey, said:

Mr. President, I offer the following resolution. (The resolution was sent to the Secretary and read, as follows):

Resolved—That the rules of the last Democratic Convention govern this Convention until otherwise ordered, subject to the modification, that in voting for a candidate for President and Vice-President, no State shall be allowed to change its vote until the roll of States has been called and every State has cast its vote.

The question was put and seconded, and Showalter, of Missouri, rose to a point of order, saying the assemblage did not know until the report of the Committee on Credentials who composed the Convention.

Chairman—The point of order is not sustained, for this reason: We meet here as a deliberative body, and I suppose for personal purposes we can adopt rules that we wish. These rules would not obtain, of course, if they were not adopted by the Convention until after the report of the Committee on Credentials. I will say, however, I don't see that they can be made applicable at this time, since the subject matter to which they are directed will not come before this body until that time. I suggest, Governor, that although I think the resolution in order, it might be well to let it stand over.

Governor Green—I think it has always been customary to accept.

Chair—The House will then vote on the question of its adoption.

The vote was almost unanimously in favor of the resolution.

Patterson, of Colorado, in behalf of the Colorado Democracy, said:

I crave the indulgence of this Convention to present to it for the use of its Chairman, a solid silver gavel.

Patterson then held up the gavel, which created great applause. Continuing, he said:

It was wrought from Colorado mines, fashioned by Colorado artisans. It is the modest offer of the youngest member of the Federal Union, to that party that restored silver to the monetary plane from which it was degraded through the Republican Congressional conspiracy in 1873, and that has ever since remained its consistent champion. May the announcement be made to the civilized world through its silvery tones of the second unanimous nomination of the people's choice for President, Grover Cleveland. [Great applause.]

Chairman White replied:

Gentlemen of the Convention, if there is no objection, and I assume there will be none, this present will be deemed accepted. It is solid silver, and as far as a gavel can do it, you will have to be ruled by silver. [Good Ap- [illegible] tions, and that all resolutions in relation to the platform of the Democratic party be referred to said Committee without debate.

It was moved and seconded that the resolution as read should be adopted. [Cries of "Question."]

Paines, of New York—Mr. Chairman, would it not now be in order to call the roll of the Convention for the purpose of having the credentials of the delegations delivered to the Chair.

Chairman—That is the object of the resolution presented to the Convention by Senator Gorman, of Maryland. It covers that subject; first, the appointment of the committee; after that committee is appointed, then, of course, some means of putting the credentials in their hands will be suggested. Credentials will be presented, I am informed, in the usual order to the Committee on Credentials. The place will be designated. The Secretary will call the roll.

The Secretary called the roll of States, and as each State was called the chairman of the delegation responded with the names of the members of the Committee on Resolutions, Permanent Organization and Credentials, as decided upon by the various States before the Convention. When Kentucky was called and the member for the Committee on Resolutions was announced to be Henry Watterson, a storm of applause swept through the hall, which did not cease for some minutes. There was also much applause when Texas reported as its member of the Platform Committee George Clark. On Dakota's name being reached, O'Brien, of Minnesota, spoke up, saying: "In Dakota there is a contest. There are two delegations from Dakota attending this Convention. No committee, no delegates from Dakota should participate in the proceedings of this Convention until that contest is decided."

Chairman—You make the motion.

O'Brien—I move that all the parties claiming to be delegates from Dakota be excluded until the report of the Committee on Credentials is made.

The question was put on this motion and it was carried.

Roll-call was now at an end, and the Chairman announced that the three committees, Platform, Permanent Organization and Credentials would meet at 5 P. M., the two latter in the rooms adjoining the Convention hall, and the Committee on Platform at the parlors of the Southern Hotel, Headquarters of the Democratic National Committee.

Chairman—Is there any other business to come before the Convention.

Pusey, of Iowa—Mr. Chairman—I am instructed by my delegation to offer the following resolution and ask for the adoption of it.

Chairman—Send up the petition if you please.

At this a delegate arose and made frantic efforts to be heard. The Chairman several times requested him to give his name, but he refused, whether owing to the fact that he did not hear the Chairman's request for his name, or was disposed to not give it, was not apparent. Finally the Chairman made himself heard by the delegate and again asked his name. When the delegate said McGinnis, of Montana, everybody laughed. When the laughter subsided, McGinnis said:

Mr. Speaker—On behalf of the Association of Territorial delegates, I am requested to offer the following resolution:

Chair—Will you please wait a moment until the resolution already passed from Iowa is read and disposed of? That is the only thing in order now.

The Secretary then read the resolution offered by Pusey as follows: During the recess of this Convention, this hall shall be opened for the inspection of visiting clubs. [Cheers.]

Baker, of Ohio—I move to amend the action by instructing the Sergeant-at-Arms to invite and find seats in this Convention for every uniformed Democratic Club that comes from other States. [Applause.]

The Chair requested the amendment to be passed up.

Pusey—My resolution embodies that very thing. It says all visiting clubs.

Chairman—I desire the gentlemen to have the amendment here before we proceed further. Is that amendment in writing, Mr. Baker?

Baker—In a minute it will be.

The amendment was passed up shortly afterwards.

Chair—Gentlemen of the Convention, I will have to ask you to take your seats. There must be order while the proceedings of this Convention are going on, at least among the delegates.

The amendment of Baker was then read by the Secretary as follows:

That the Sergeant-at-Arms be directed to invite and seat in this Convention, during its session, all uniformed clubs visiting St. Louis from other States.

Terry, of Arkansas—Mr. Chairman, I understood that this hall is already filled to its full capacity, and I move you, sir, that the matter be referred to the Committee on Arrangements. [Cheers.]

Chairman—There is no such committee belonging to the Convention. It should be sent to the National Committee.

Terry—I move it be referred to the National Committee in charge of the matter.

Chairman—Will you reduce that motion to writing? This is a motion.

Mr. Baker—Mr. Chairman.

Chairman—Wait a moment Mr. Baker, and we will recognize your motion, it is simply a motion to require this matter to be sent to the National Committee. It is a motion of reference. The motion of Pusey is to to send this resolution or invitation to the National Committee.

Baker—There are, I understand, uniformed Democratic clubs here from ten or twelve States. Those of us who are delegates are obliged to the people of St. Louis for their princely hospitality, and I think these clubs ought to be permitted to have seats in this Convention during the deliberations of this body. [Long cheers.]

Pusey, of Iowa—There are many clubs here who expect to go off on the morning train. They are good Democrats and do not want to interfere with the business interests of this Convention. My resolution, Mr. Chairman, contemplates they shall have the use of this hall only during the recess of this Convention, and I do hope the substitute will be voted down.

Chairman—I am authorized by the Chairman of the National Committee to say that there has been no such extensive distribution of tickets as stated by the gentleman from Ohio. The question is upon the substitute. Are you ready for the question? [Cries of question.]

Chairman—All in favor of the substitute will say aye.

The substitute was adopted.

The following resolution, which was offered by Roswell P. Flower, of Tammany Hall, was read by the Secretary:

Resolved: That when this Convention adjourns, it adjourns until to-morrow at noon.

[Cries of "Good," "Good."]

Governor Abbett, of New Jersey—I move to amend by making it 10 o'clock to-morrow. I want to see the Democratic nomination to-morrow.

Chairman—Governor Abbett, of New Jersey, offers an amendment to the motion of Mr. Flower, of New York.

Flower—I accept the amendment.

have the honor of the Chairmanship of the Platform Committee. Congressman Scott yielded to this compromise in behalf of harmony and through a desire to bring all the disaffected elements of the party into full sympathy with the Administration. But to-day the truce was declared off. Gorman, Barnum and their high tariff sympathizers were more active in visiting the influential men of the various delegations than was relished by Scott. There were signs that the high tariff men were preparing to steal a march on the other wings of the party. Scott was particularly incensed at the selection of Ex-Mayor Cooper, a strong protectionist as the New York representative on the Committee. From the other side Scott was subjected to great pressure, Commissioner Morrison and Henry Watterson calling on him and insisting that no compromise, however small the concession involved, should be made. The agreement between Gorman and Scott was finally declared off and Watterson who had been a candidate for the permanent chairmanship was put forward as the candidate of the tariff reform people for the chairman of the Platform Committee. It is generally predicted that on to-morrow the committee will conclude its labors.

COMMITTEE ON CREDENTIALS.

It took nearly four hours this evening for the Committee on Credentials to settle the faction fight in Dakota between the followers of Governor Church and those of the Dakota member of the National Committee, M. H. Day. Church won. It was purely a personal contest. Col. W. S. Steel presented the case for Church in a manner that seemed to take with the Committee. A. W. Bangs and T. J. Walsh were spokesmen for Day. A motion to divide the delegation between the contestants being voted down, Day appealed for time to talk in behalf of himself. He was given five minutes. Then the committee went into executive session and voted by a large majority to sustain the Church delegates. This action, it is understood, means the disposal of Day as the Dakota member of the National Committee, and the appointment of Church as his successor. J. C. Webb was made Chairman of the Committee on Credentials and O. J. Chapman, of Missouri, Secretary. There were no contests to decide, except that from Dakota.

TERRITORIAL RESOLUTIONS.

At a meeting of the delegates from the Territories and District of Columbia held to-day, on motion of Dickson, of District of Columbia, the following resolutions were adopted for submission to the Committee on Resolutions:

Resolved, That we respectfully urge on the Committee of Resolutions to incorporate in the platform of principles to be submitted to the National Convention, resolutions substantially as follows:

First—That a just and liberal policy should be pursued in reference to the Territories. That the right of self-government is inherent in the people and guaranteed under the Constitution, and that all Federal officers appointed to positions of honor and trust in the Territories of the United States and in the District of Columbia should, in all cases, be selected from the citizens of the communities where they are to serve.

Second—That the Territories of Washington, Dakota, Montana and New Mexico are by reason of population and development now entitled to admission into the Union as States, and we unqualifiedly condemn the course of the Republican party in refusing Statehood and self-government to them, and we further denounce the action of that party in Congress for denying the people to whom the United States by solemn treaty granted all the rights of American citizenship in order to make an excuse for denying them admission into the Union.

NATIONAL LEAGUE CLUBS.

The Democratic National League Clubs represented at the Convention by E. B. Whitney, temporary secretary of the League, F. Kingsbury Curtis and R. G. Monroe, of New York; Charles Ogden, of Omaha; Bradley G. Schley, of Milwaukee; Lewis Vandegrift, of Wilmington, Del., and Congressman Rush, of Baltimore, have established headquarters at the Laclede Hotel, with the object of presenting to visiting Democrats the value of organization, and the object of the Convention at Baltimore July 4th. There are now about 2,000 members of the league in the city. The committee were given a hearing before the National Committee this morning. The Committee has added clubs from States since the establishment of headquarters here. The Arapahoe and Jefferson Clubs of Denver have already joined the League and signified their intention of speeding club organization throughout the State and the adjoining Territories. Several other States are preparing to organize State leagues, and promise a general organization throughout their States. In Tennessee the Democrats are taking the scheme under advisement and are organizing clubs. L. W. Readington has organized a club at Rutland, Vermont, and reports that they are now spreading the work all through the State. The Iroquois Club, of San Francisco, which have affiliated clubs all over the State, are informed the State will send a large delegation to the Baltimore Convention.

A NEW YORKER IMPUGNED.

The attention of the New Yorkers was diverted somewhat from the Convention by a bit of news from home, which created considerable excitement and discussion among them. District Attorney John R. Fellows received a dispatch from New York to-day which stated that Alderman Conkling, a brother of the late Senator Conkling, had visited the District Attorney's office and brought the charge of bribery against Alderman Dowling. The telegram stated that he also submitted evidence and the names of witnesses, and demanded that the charges be brought to the attention of the Grand Jury for indictment and prosecution. Alderman Conkling charges bribery on Alderman Dowling in connection with the granting of the College Point ferry franchise, concerning which there has been a large amount of talk in metropolitan political circles. The information was of additional interest, owing to the fact that Dowling is now in St. Louis attending the Convention. He was seen by a reporter and asked about the report. Dowling said that Conkling was his personal enemy and had been charging him in the Board with bribery and corruption in order to injure him and make capital for himself; at this time he declares he has gone too far, and when he returns to New York he will face the charges and prove his innocence.

MONSTER PARADE.

ST. LOUIS, June 5.—A gorgeous parade of fully 20,000 uniformed Democrats in procession, was witnessed to-night. The procession started at an early hour and was still moving at 10:40. Before the march began, Olive street, the thoroughfare leading to Convention hall, was jammed for over half a mile with such a solid mass of human beings as perhaps never before gathered in any American city. At short intervals the entire distance, great arches of flame lit up the scene and made the long vista a spectacle of surpassing beauty. Wild enthusiasm was evidenced everywhere by the display of Thurman's bandanas among the marchers. First in line came Grand Marshal Colonel John I. Martin and staff, followed by the the First Battalion of the Missouri National Guards and the Marmaduke Guards of Kansas City. A great host of local semi-military fraternal associations next appeared, while the succeeding division contained political marching organizations by the score, including Tammany, the Hendricks Association of St. Louis, Cleveland Club of Ohio, Randall Club of Pennsylvania.

large a majority. Hermann's plural-
y two years ago was 1,635. Latest re-

RED BANDANAS IN THE HOUSE.

The Wood Clauses of the Mills Bill—Plucky Phil Wants to Get Well.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

WASHINGTON, June 5.—In the Senate, among the amendments reported by the Committee on Appropriations agreed to by the Senate were the following: Transferring to the grade of Envoys-Extraordinary and Ministers-Plenipotentiary, the Ministers-Resident in Belgium, Netherlands, Sweden and Norway and Venezuela, without change of salary ($7,500); inserting the item Minister-Resident and Consul-General in Corea ($6,000); transferring to the grade of Minister-Resident and Consul-General the Charge d'Affaires to Paraguay and Uruguay, without change of salaries ($7,000).

On motion of Sherman, an item of $25,000 was inserted for the salaries and expenses of a scientific commission of three persons, consisting of an officer of the army or navy, a geologist and mineralogist and a naturalist, to examine and report on the commercial resources of the Upper Congo Basin, the salaries, not exceeding $6,000, to be fixed by the President, and the commission to expire June 30, 1889. The bill went over until to-morrow without further action, and the Senate adjourned.

Chandler has introduced a bill to amend the Fishery Unretaliatory act, by striking out the words, "In his decision," and by also striking out reference to other products of the Dominion than fish. This would absolutely deny Canadian vessels the right of entry whenever the President is satisfied the rights of Americans in Dominion ports are abridged, or whenever they are subjected to annoyance, and would also forbid the importation of Canadian fresh and salt fish.

Senator Quay has been authorized to report favorably the bill granting pensions to soldiers and sailors confined in Confederate prisons.

The House.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Tariff bill, the debate pending on the clause, "wood manufactured, and not specially enunciated or provided for," and limited to thirty minutes.

Springer took the chair and a reporter in the gallery waved a large red handkerchief. Instantly there was an outburst of applause on the Democratic side. Grosvenor called the Chair's attention to the red handkerchief, which he said had been mistaken by the Democrats as the bandana from Ohio, while in fact it was a telegram from Oregon. This sally and Mr. Parker's statement that it would be better to use the handkerchief for the purpose originally intended, turned the laughter to the other side.

Parker, of New York, addressed the House in opposition to the lumber clauses of the Tariff bill. He was followed, in opposition, by Reed, of Maine. While the bill was defended by Cox, of New York and Bynum, of Indiana.

Upon expiration of the debate, Bayne's motion to strike out the paragraph was rejected, and the next paragraph, "sawed boards, planks and other articles of sawed timber," was considered.

Moffett, of New York, Howard, of Indiana and Kelly, of Pennsylvania, renewed the attack on the lumber schedule.

Herman, of Oregon, presented to the Democracy the compliment of Oregon and a message from her people, saying Oregon had voted for protection by three thousand majority. [Applause.]

Moffitt moved to strike out the paragraph. The motion was rejected, so the Clerk turned over the first page of the bill and read the next clause of the free list, "hubs for wheels, posts, last blocks, wagon blocks, car blocks, heeling blocks and all like blocks or sticks, rough hewn," which Bayne moved to strike out. He said he had heard that the St. Louis platform would straddle the tariff question. He predicted that although the Democratic banner would read Cleveland and the Red Bandana, (tremendous applause on the Democratic side) the Republicans in November standing on a reform platform would be victorious.

Cox read a bulletin from the Convention to the effect that Cleveland's name was received by storms of applause, whereupon the Democratic members again broke out in tumultous applause.

After further debate the motion to strike out was rejected by a party vote.

"Staves of wood" was next considered. After a long discussion Buchanan, of New Jersey, offered an amendment adding the words, "in a rough state and not shaved," which was rejected.

Bayne, of Pennsylvania, remarked that the Democrats did not appear to gather much satisfaction from the perusal of the Convention bulletins, and he therefore read a number of telegrams showing Republican gains in Oregon to the delectation of the Republicans.

Lawler, of Illinois, replied by reading clippings from an Oregon newspaper, denouncing high tariff as a humbug.

The amendment to strike out the paragraph was lost and the Committee rose.

The Speaker pro tem. laid before the House a message from the President returning without his approval bills for the erection of public buildings at Bar Harbor, Maine, and for the purchase of additional ground for the building at Council Bluffs, Iowa. The announcement of the veto of the first named bill was received with laughter by the Republicans.

The conferees on the bill relating to postal crimes presented their report and the Senate amendments were agreed to. Adjourned.

PLUCKY PHIL.

He Insists on Getting Well But is a Very Sick Man.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—This has been a favorable day for General Sheridan. He rested quietly and has apparently gained strength. The family feel quite cheerful to-night. At no time has the General himself given up hope of recovery, and to-day his mind has been clear and he has taken considerable interest in things generally. He insists upon knowing the news from the St. Louis Convention, and dispatches from there were read from time to time. While there certainly has been an improvement in his condition to-day, it must be borne in mind this is largely comparative, and does not mean that he is better than before yesterday's attack. Each attack leaves the General somewhat weaker, and it is this fact which causes such grave apprehensions among his friends.

Midnight.—General Sheridan's condition has not changed materially since the last report. His respiration continues regular and his pulse is good in quality, ranging from 105 to 108 to the minute. His sleep during the entire evening has been restful, and he has only awakened at regular intervals when required to take his nourishment.

Duckworth Club of Cincinnati, Cook County (Ill.) Democratic Club, Iroquois Club of Chicago, and the Hawkeye Club of Burlington, Iowa. The next division contained a number of similar organizations, particularly the Kansas City Democratic Club, 1,000 strong, and the Topeka Flambeau Club of Kansas. More marching clubs, each with a band of music, but nearly all local St. Louis organizations, formed the bulk of the fifth division, while the sixth contained a large force of veteran soldiers. A magnificent display by the St. Louis fire department wound up the parade.

TAYLOR AFTER THE HONORS.

In the meeting of the California delegation to-night there was quite a stormy scene. Senator Clay Taylor claimed the honor of nominating Judge Thurman, while a majority of the delegates were in favor of assigning that duty to Col. Tarpey. No decision could be reached, and the matter was referred to a special committee, composed of Senator Clay Taylor and Colonel Tarpey, the two gentlemen who were eager to nominate Judge Thurman. They could come to no decision, and this evening the matter was referred back to the delegation, when it was unanimously decided to favor Colonel Tarpey.

THE VICE-PRESIDENCY.

Nobody is able to perceive a contingency likely to throw the Convention into a struggle over the Vice-Presidency. Governor Gray's friends have all along had two grounds of hope, that they might eventually win. One of these was the attitude of the Ohio delegation, and it is a singular fact that the movement to bring the Old Roman from his retirement came very near being strangled in his own State. It is claimed that a majority of the Ohio delegation is really against Thurman to this day, and are accepting him only because the country is fairly forcing him upon them. The Gray men also had some hopes that by making a courageous stand they could hold in line the friends of all the other candidates, thus preventing Thurman from getting two-thirds on the first ballot. But the unit rule has been adopted by the Thurman majority in seven or eight of the States, notably Michigan, New York, Pennsylvania and Tennessee, thus forcing the minority to help to swell the votes for the favorite, and thus destroying the last hope of the supporters of Governor Gray. There have been rumors of combinations to bring Carlisle or Dickinson into the contest, but the friends of both deny that any effort is being made in their behalf. Senator Voorhees says the question whether Gray's name shall be placed in nomination is to be decided to-morrow morning.

SONS OF THE GOLDEN WEST.

California had another soiree, growing out of the gossip from the ladies who had attended the previous evening's diversion. Approaching 5 o'clock, a delegation en decollete filed into the rooms, and was entertained by James T. Murphy, of Santa Clara, who presented each lady a bandana, and generally did the honors, while his fellow members crouched behind the scenes. The ladies left very well satisfied and promised to make another visit before the fate of the country has been settled by the Democratic hosts.

The Committee on Resolutions went into session this evening, and at midnight the gas shone brightly over the transom. The Coast has made itself felt in every direction at this meeting, and free coinage has become the bone of contention and may wield influence to-morrow when the Committee reports. The Committee wants to evade direct issue on the tariff so far as the Coast is concerned.

Washington Wirings.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Miss Grace Elizabeth Matthews, daughter of Justice Matthews, of the Supreme Court, and John Harlan Cleveland, of Kentucky, nephew of Justice Harlan, were married to-day at the residence of her father.

In order to assist the local authorities in the maintenance of a quarantine against the introduction of infectious diseases, the President has determined to establish, by means of the revenue vessels, a marine patrol of the coasts of the United States, so far as may be practicable under the existing law, and consistent with the performance of other duties consigned to that service.

An Obstreperous Skipper.

ST. JOHN, N. F., June 5.—This morning Captain Diggin, of the American schooner Knight, which was seized for violation of the bait act, made preparations to take the vessel out of the harbor. Five policemen who attempted to arrest the crew were repulsed. The American Consul advised the captain to submit, but he refused and ran up the American flag. Then came a large force of police and the crew were carried off to court. The case is pending.

THE RAILROADS.

What the Wilbur Road is Waiting For.

MORE "SUNSET" EXCURSIONISTS.

An Agency for the Vanderbilt Lines Established in the City.

A HERALD reporter, in conversation yesterday with a railroad official of undoubted authority, was told the reason why the work has been stopped on the Wilbur-Paulsell road. "The projectors of the road," said the railroad man, "are simply bickering about in an endeavor to obtain a connection with the Laundry Farm road that is to built out from Oakland. This will give them better northern privileges than they would have by terminating the road at Antioch as at present arranged. You may be certain that the road will touch at Bakersfield on its way North, because apart from the reasons given in the HERALD the other day about the right-of-way, they would have no object in running further westward, because that is a comparatively barren country. In my opinion the graders will be at work again in a very few weeks."

THE WATERS' CASE

To Go to the Jury Some Time To-Day.

The trial of Bridget Waters, charged with killing her husband, Patrick Waters, on the 1st of May on San Fernando street, occupied the attention of Judge Williams in Department No. I of the Superior Court, all day yesterday. The defense introduced several witnesses who testified to having heard Patrick Waters threaten to kill Mrs. Waters. Dan Farrel, a butcher, testified that he was present in Mrs. Waters' boarding-house when Waters appeared on the day of the shooting and saw Waters catch his wife by the throat, throw her against the counter and kick her. He also saw Waters try to draw a pistol. Mrs. Waters testified to having been shot at three times by her husband and to other ill-treatment she had received at his hands. The case will probably go to the jury this morning.

On motion of Supervisor Venable, the County Treasurer was instructed to take the necessary steps to redeem the whole of the issue of bonds of 1875 and 1878; also $31,000 of the issue of 1881, and to advertise the same in the Los Angeles and San Francisco papers.

In the matter of demands from the Coroner, Supervisor Macy moved that the opinion of the District Attorney be had as to the legality of charges of the Coroner in cases of post-mortem examinations where experts are required.

The petition of the Forest Park Water Company, to lay water pipe in the county road, was presented, filed, and on motion of Supervisor Martin June 8th was set as time for hearing.

A Pipe Factory.

EDITORS HERALD:—Thinking you would like a little news, I write you to say that the Los Angeles Water and Sewer Pipe Company, incorporated in 1887, has increased its paid up stock to one hundred thousand dollars and changed its name to the Southern California Water and Sewer Pipe Manufacturing Co., with its general office in Los Angeles. Large vitrified salt glazed sewer pipe works will soon be put in at South Riverside, for which I am here buying machinery. The company will commence to build the works on my return, the last of June. This company also includes the large stone crushing plant on the Arroyo Seco, East Los Angeles, and the manufacture of cement concrete water pipes for irrigating purposes; also the egg shape and oval concrete sewer pipes for large drain sewers. We shall also manufacture hollow fire proofing for partion walls in fire proof buildings, fire-brick and terra cotta goods of all kinds, and shall expect to soon embark in the manufacture of terra cotta lumber, which can be used for ceilings, partition walls and inside lining of brick walls. Being porous, a nail can be driven into it and woodwork of any kind nailed to it. This will be the largest manufacturing concern in Southern California, and will be increased just as fast as the business demands, and a demand will be worked up for these goods all over California and the Territories.

Yours respectfully, C. B. HEWITT, General Manager.

Akron, O., May 30th.

DRUNKENNESS

Or the Liquor Habit Positively Cured by Administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea without the knowledge of the person taking it; is absolutely harmless and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. Thousands of drunkards have been made temperate men who have taken Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge, and to-day believe they quit drinking of their own free will. IT NEVER FAILS. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. For sale by R. W. Ellis & Co. Druggists, 27 S. SURPRISED —AND— DELIGHTED!

That's what every one is who visits the Alexandre Weill tract. And no wonder, for there the work of improvement goes steadily on. The vines, orange, fig and walnut trees are being irrigated and cultivated, the fan palms, grevilleas, dracœnas, and other shade trees on the principal streets are constantly cared for. The handsome stone walls are kept neat and clean, and the broad and level streets are made fresh, cool and free from dust by that awfully pretty red sprinkling cart, "which alone is worth the price of admission." And when you remember that from the business portion of the town it is only say to Central avenue and Eighth street, and that a splendid street car line runs along the property, you won't be surprised at the amount of building going on both in and around this tract. Just ask the people who are living there how they are pleased with it, and then come to my office and let me quote prices and terms to you. I'll show you how surprisingly easy it is to obtain a pleasant home amid delightful surroundings.

OZŒNA.

Ozœna is the professional or technical name given to an advanced form of catarrh in which ulceration has eaten through the membrane lining of the nose to the cartillage of the bone. Any case of catarrh may end in ozœna, but it most frequently occurs in those who are naturally scrofulous. The discharge takes place through the nostrils or through the throat, and is generally of a yellowish or greenish-yellow color, frequently tinged with blood, and almost always attended by an offensive smell. In the language of Dr. Wood, of Philadelphia, "The disease is one of the most obdurate and disagreeable which the physician has to encounter. In bad cases the breath of the patient becomes so revolting as to isolate him from society, and render him an object of distrust even to himself."

In some instances pieces of bone become separated and slough off, leaving deep, unhealthy ulcers, which secrete a bloody matter, and are extremely difficult to heal.

After ozœna has continued some time the sense of smell becomes impaired and often lost.

Deafness is one of the most common consequences and results from its extension through the eustachian tube to the internal ear.

Pains in the head over the frontal sinuses, impairing memory, and even insanity, frequently springs from its extension to the brain.

The great danger, however, because the most common, is that it will extend downward and affect the lungs. In most cases of pulmonary disease catarrh is present to some degree, and in many instances it causes a large share of the patient's discomfort.

Besides these grave consequences, all of which are liable to spring from scrofulous catarry of ozœna, there are others which, if less dangerous, are sufficiently unpleasant. It occasions great unhappiness to thousands of both sexes by isolating them and preventing their settlement in life. An offensive running from the nose, with foul breath, is about as great a calamity as can befall young people. Every disease of this kind can be cured by our new system of practice.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless, unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing can do with the same success.

The very best reference from those already cured.
